

Journal of Opioid Management Special Issue

Buprenorphine: Clinical and Public Policy Implications

Advertise in this special issue on Buprenorphine.

The field of opioids and pain management are undergoing tremendous change. This special issue will chronicle this change and will provide a comprehensive resource for healthcare professionals as they look to adopt buprenorphine into their practice.

Our Goal

The Journal of Opioid Management has created an authoritative special issue presenting the latest research on the basic science, clinical application, and public policy aspects of buprenorphine. The special issue contains over 185 pages of the latest peer-review content on this subject!

Special Issue Editors

Mellar P. Davis, MD, FCCP, FAACP and Mary Lynn McPherson, PharmD, MA, MDE, BCPS, CPE, are joined by a group of outstanding experts in this authoritative special issue. Dr. Davis and Dr. McPherson combined have more than six decades of experience in the fields of opioids, pain management, and palliative medicine.

Issue Focus

This issue will address the most important issues prescribers face while utilizing buprenorphine in their practice.

Topics Covered

- Clinical application of buprenorphine in pain management
- Where does buprenorphine fit on the ladder of analgesics?
- How does one rotate onto buprenorphine to/from other potent opioids?
- Pharmacology and pharmacokinetics of buprenorphine
- The role of buprenorphine in public health and addressing the opioid crisis
- Integration of buprenorphine into practice protocols
- And much more!

Advertise Today

This is a unique opportunity to present your product or service to healthcare providers looking to adopt buprenorphine into their practice. This special issue will be a reference journal providers will utilize continually. Benefit from that exposure!

Our standard advertising rates apply. Visit our website www.opioidmanagement.com for details. Book your ad space today to secure your preferred position!

Bonus: All advertiser's artwork will be included in our online edition of this special issue.

Deadline

Ad Space - August 27, 2021

Artwork Due - August 31, 2021

Media Kit: Visit www.opioidmanagement.com and click on the advertising link.

Contact: Richard A. DeVito, Jr., Publisher
470 Boston Post Road, Suite 301, Weston, MA 02493
E-mail: radjr@pnpc.com, 781-899-2702 Ext. 107, 781-889-4900 (fax)

Journal of
Opioid Management[®]
Presenting the latest clinical developments on opioids